

WORK OF THE WIND

A Hurricane Sweeps Through the Capital of Portugal.

THE TAGUS ON THE RAMPAGE

In Uproots Many Houses—The Flying Debris Causes the Death of Six Persons.

LISBON, March 7.—The hurricane which passed over the Portuguese district did much damage to property and to the harbor works here. A number of houses were unroofed, chimneys blown down and trees prostrated. Six persons who were passing along the streets were struck by flying debris and killed. A number of others were more or less injured by the falling bricks, tiles, etc. The river Tagus, which in some places had already overflowed its banks, continues to rise rapidly and threatens considerable damage. The river is full of driftwood, and navigation of the stream has become so hazardous that few if any vessels attempt it.

NEW YORK'S LATEST CENSUS.

Shows a Gain of 500,000 Population Over
That Taken in 1890.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 7.—The state enumeration just completed is the most accurate ever made in this state. The federal and state census laws hitherto have called for a vast amount of miscellaneous information, thus complicating the taking of the count, and making accuracy difficult to attain. The enumeration just taken has been as simple a count as could be made. The Porter census of 1890 gave the state in round numbers 6,000,000 of population, and the census just concluded will show fully 6,500,000 and perhaps 7,000,000. New York and Brooklyn between them will show a gain of about 400,000 over the federal census, the former being about 1,800,000 and the latter 2,600,000. Buffalo stands about 360,000, Rochester 145,000 and Syracuse 50,000.

Michigan Schools and the Fair.

JACKSON, Mich., March 7.—On February 22, Washington's birthday, the school children throughout the state were asked to contribute one cent apiece, teachers and school officers ten cents and principals fifty cents, in order to aid Michigan's educational exhibition at the World's Columbian exposition. The projectors of the scheme report the receipt of over $10,000 up to date, with a number of localities yet to hear from.

Omaha Theater Burned.

OMAHA, Neb., March 7.—Sunday night while a performance was being given on the upper stage at the Edan Music Hall a fly was pushed too close to a gas jet and the fire that resulted destroyed the building and contents, loss, $25,000.
